

India - ITPL

Indian Travel Promotion Company Pvt. Ltd. – endearingly referred as ITPL, was founded over two decades ago with the belief in presenting India in a way that is unique, unexplored, and unhindered. ITPL, a complete Destination Management Company headed by Tony Marwah provides you with all the facilities whilst you are on your personal journey – the journey of a lifetime.

India is a land of paradoxes. Side by side with the rich and the affluent exist millions who barely subsist with the very minimum of creature comforts. Yet all join in the celebration of major festivals, each in his/her own manner.

Experience the richness of culture, the glory of the past, the turbulence's and triumphs. One's mind traverses from the great temples of South to the erotic sculptures of Khajuraho to grand Mughal architecture of Agra. Let us explore some of these in the following programs.

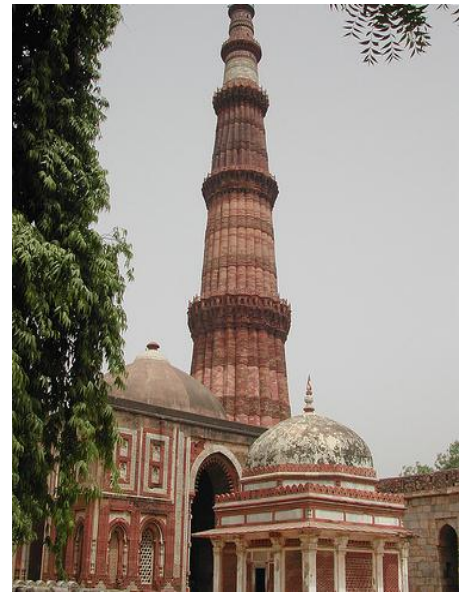

ITPL draws on the knowledge, humour and creativity of an incredible team of staff members to bring you face-to-face with: rare species of a birds, tigers and lions, Bison and rhinos on our Wild Life Tour ; the tranquillity of the Backwaters; the rich cultural heritage of India from the Indus Valley to the Mughal era and finally the British Raj; and a lot more.

India - ITPL

India is an immensely rich cultural treasure trove in the world. Rich in myth and legend, with musical, culinary and handicraft traditions that have been passed down for generations. The monuments of India, they are not only structures built of stones, bricks, and mortar, they are stories in themselves. These are the stories of valor, of great rulers, of great societies, and of great people who built them. These monuments tell the stories of India - a great civilization that is more than 3000 years old.

The fusion of the carrying on with the legacy as with as developing their art forms makes them as the perfect example of amalgamation of trend and tradition. If the cultural heritage of a country is revealed by its arts and crafts then India is for sure very rich.
